

MR. KING FEELS HONORED IN BEING CLASSIFIED BY "CITIZEN" AS THE LONE SUPPORTER OF 'GOD'S CREATURES'

Supporter of Buffalo Replies to "Citizen" and Among Other Things Says He will Remain Loyal to Government and G.T.P.

Editor Star—
Dear Sir:

After reading "Citizen's" letter in last week's STAR, I am surprised to find that I am credited with the honor of being the only tradesman in town defending the buffalo. I think, however, that the honor is misplaced and will have to be shared by others who are of the same opinion as myself.

It is solely in the interests of the town that I take the stand I do and it is not my intention to play into the hands of men who are holding up farm lands and town lots, and are agitating for the removal of the buffalo and trying to create a land rush in order that they might unload to an advantage to themselves. I prefer to build up the town on a firmer foundation and avoid the recoil which would certainly follow such a crazy rush.

It is the loyal citizen who builds up a town, not the knucklers and I prefer to be loyal to the government, which decided, after careful consideration, that the land now reserved was more suitable for the purpose it is now used, than homestead lands. Loyal, not only to the government, but to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway whose policy and ambition has always been to make Wainwright a tourist centre.

Citizen's remarks with regard to the terrible barrier that has kept the railways out, I consider a piece of bluff. There is no record of any railway company asking permission to cross the park, and if powers were required, there is no reason why they would not be granted seeing that the railways pass through Banff, Yoho, Glacier and Jasper Parks.

"How much money would the visit of King George put into the pockets of the local tradesmen?" asks "Citizen." Evidently this citizen is a matter-of-fact, hard-headed, practical and commercial individual and loyalty or sentiment do not count. You must "show him" in dollars and cents where he comes in, otherwise he will object to the prefix "royal." Well, Mr. Citizen, I think I can show you to your satisfaction that the visit would be a good financial proposition.

Queen Alexandra presented a sprig of Shamrock to every man in the Irish Guards on St. Patrick's day, with the result that every man, woman and child got the grass too. The Irish lace industry was saved by the simple action of the Queen ordering a quantity of Irish lace. The Hensley Manufacturing Co. of Montreal, secured an order from the King of England, and now has permission to call its goods, "Hensley's Royal Ensembles," with the result that orders from English houses are pouring into the firm, and the company is in a better financial position than ever before.

The visit of the King, alone, would bring all kinds of money to the town. Get the King, and the Lords, and the hero, and the money will follow. A few men like the Duke of Sutherland, or Mr. Wood, of the Wood-Wainwright Co., men with unlimited capital and a great desire to colonize this country with the British speaking race, would put Wainwright in a position, the opening of the Buffalo Park could never do.

The upkeep of the buffalo and the grading of new roads through the Parks this year will cost the government thousands of dollars, which will be to the benefit of Wainwright. If people want to homestead on land similar to the land in the Buffalo Park, let them take up the eighty nine homesteads that are open today, within a radius of twelve miles of the town.

Concluding his article "Citizen" says he is not in favour of doing away with the Buffalo altogether, and I should say not. God's creatures have a right to live as well as man, and if it is Wainwright's lot to keep and hand these animals down to posterity, let us do it with a good grace. The Buffalo Reserve was here before the people, and the people came, knowing it was here.

Yours truly,
H. C. King.

LONDON SUBSCRIBER THINKS TOURISTS NO BENEFIT TO A TOWN

Interest In Question of Park's Removal Extends to Old Country

So great is the interest in the buffalo park, and its removal from Wainwright, that subscribers of this paper in the Old Country are following the question with as keen a fervor as local people. The STAR is in receipt of the following letter from Highgate Road, London, England, and the letter speaks for itself.

"I beg to enclose subscription for your bright and breezy paper (I fear it is a month or two overdue).

"I have read with interest the letters in your columns regarding the value of the Buffalo Park to Wainwright as a lure to tourists.

"I can, as one who has been to most of the 'show places' in England and Scotland, confirm the statements made, that tourist traffic brings little benefit to a locality. To mention one place—the Trossachs, in the heart of Scotland's world-famous lake and mountain scenery, which is visited by hundreds of thousands of tourists every summer, there will be found half a dozen large hotels and no towns worthy of the name. And, without any disrespect to our old friend, the buffalo, can one compare a herd of wild animals to grand scenery as an attraction to tourists?

"Even the great Zoological Gardens in London with its twelve cents admission does not draw many adults, unless they are fond of papas or mamas, steered there by little Alfie Marys.

"Even the poor buffalo is deserted for the greater attractions of the elephant, lion or monkey houses!

"I am afraid I should not stop off at Wainwright if there were not more attractions (which there are) than the Buffalo Park. Those some day to have a turn on your rink, and to enjoy the picture palace.

"Excuse me if I have taken up too much space, but I have a few lots in Wainwright, and through reading your paper for two years have developed quite a fatherly interest in the

CURLERS REGISTER KICK

Claim Town is not Abiding by Original Agreement Regarding Rinks

Local curlers claim that they are not getting proper service from the rink management and that although they are paying for two rinks but one sheet of ice is available. The club has already paid $150 for the curling rink and now refuses to pay the $100 balance until this condition of affairs is remedied. A meeting of the club was held yesterday afternoon. A letter was ordered written, setting forth the fact that the council was not living up to its agreement.

CREAM OF WEST FLOUR FINDS READY SALE ALONG LINE

Demand for Local Brand Far
Exceeds Available
Supply

"Cream of the West" flour manufactured by the Wainwright Milling Co., is greatly in demand, and retail dealers along the line are fast proving for themselves that such popular brands as Parity, Royal Household and Robin Hood are not a whit better than what is being produced here.

Mr. Diefenbach, the local manager for the Wainwright Milling Co., is very enthusiastic over the amount of business he has already been favoured with by dealers, who do business at almost every town between Edmonton and Saskatoon. First it was his fear that he would have considerable difficulty working up patronage. Now, he realizes that business is coming his way faster than he anticipated.

Interviewed by the STAR, before his departure for Saskatoon to-day, Mr. Diefenbach, in part, said:

"We are receiving so many orders for Cream patent that I fear whether or not we can handle them. Flour dealers along the line are telegraphing their orders and at Scott we have already disposed of no less than one hundred and fifty sacks. Letters are coming in almost every day telling us that Cream of the West is gaining the preference over established brands. One consumer at Vera writes us that although these established brands cost more money he is willing to use Cream at no reduction over the flour he has sold for years."

IN REAL ESTATE BUSINESS
Mr. Gordon S. Gerow, who has been employed in the office of Superintendent Walton here for some past, has resigned his position and has already gone to Edmonton. Mr. Gerow has entered the offices of a prominent real estate firm of that city.

A PROMINENT ARCHITECT
Mr. J. E. McCormack of Winnipeg, accompanied by Mr. D. W. F. Nichols of the same city, were in town this week on business, connected with the development of Mr. McCormack's subdivision, South Wainwright. Mr. Nichols is a prominent architect of Winnipeg.

FINE PIECE OF WORK

A new table for the council chamber has been completed and placed in the new town hall by Contractors Broadhurst & Bell. The table has been built in the form of a half circle and is about twenty feet in length. The workmanship on this particular piece of furniture is a credit to those who built it.

INSURANCE AGENTS MADE FEEL IMPORT OF TOWN BY LAWS

Tried to Do Business Without License Prescribed by Town By-Law

PAID LICENSE FEE OF $50
Council, Bowerman Convinced
Them that Kaiser Way
Was Better

Some excitement was aroused in the town last week, when the council refused to allow two American insurance agents, to do business here without a license, as prescribed by a municipal by-law. It is understood that these two gentlemen represented the International Life Insurance Co., and, when overtaken by Council Bowerman, chairman of the By-Law Committee, had already written a policy for one of the railway men.

Council Bowerman gently informed them that they would not be permitted to solicit insurance in the town without paying the usual license fee of $50 and that they were liable to prosecution for having written a policy, contrary to this particular by-law. When informed of this, they promptly paid over this amount and left town. It is understood that they will return and continue to carry on a curb stone insurance business in view of the fact that they have already paid the necessary fees to entitle them to do so.

MARRIED WOMEN BEAT SPINSTERS

Exciting Game in which Many Things were Done, which Ought not to Have Been Done

And it proved "a dismal battle." For the manner in which they mixed it up was exciting, enjoyable and very laughable. As forecasted by the number of vagers on the outcome before the match started by the married men, the spinsters went down to defeat at the hockey match on Friday evening last, the score being 5-3 in favour of the married ladies.

The losers showed lack of practice, and indeed this was the case for the seven married ladies who appeared on the ice had the advantage in having kept in condition for at least a week previous to the game. Was it that the bachelor ladies had spent one too many "tete a tete" into the early hours of mornings previous?

For the winners, Mrs. Gerow was a tower of strength and scored at will. In fact in skating and stick handling she was better than any of those seen at the game between the lean and fatmen. Instead of batting the puck, Mrs. Gerow carried it and slammed it into the nets for at least three of the tallies. Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Goldsworthy were also among the stars and when the puck came their way they "got it or their man." Mrs. Clark, in goal, saved score after score, by clever defence work. Mrs. Washburn at point showed evidence that she has taken lessons from her husband in the work of protecting the nets. Mrs. McPhee, on one wing (no it was at centre) and Mrs. McTaggart, at cover, also played strong games and showed a tendency to be aggressive in attack during the game.

Nellie Isted, one of the foremost stars of the single ladies, performed a feat rarely accomplished in a hockey match. During the second half, she

ALLSTARS vs. TOFIELD

Hockey Fans will Likely See
Fast Game Next Week
Arrangements are now being made by the hockey executive for a hockey game between the local "Allstar" team and Tofield, the match to take place next week. The Tofield team is a strong aggregation and has had considerable success this season with Edmonton teams. In the event of a match being arranged, local fans can expect to see the best game of the season. The ladies' hockey team of Tofield is also expected down to play against a picked team from the married and single ladies.

VIKING AND RYLEY FIND REASON TO EXPELL WAINWRIGHT

"Cold Feet" Appears as Reason for Expulsion from League

From all appearances, the local hockey team has been thrown into an obscure side-track so far as the Northern G. T. P. Amateur Hockey League is concerned. At a meeting of executive members, trustees of the Duplessis Cup and managers of the several teams, held at Viking last week, it was clearly evident that Ryley and Viking are either suffering from a severe attack of "cold feet", wish to freeze Wainwright out of the league or have at last found an imaginary excuse for refusing to play against the local aggregation of hockeyists.

Managers of these teams refuse to line their teams against Wainwright. No special charges are made, other than that hearsay tells them, that one of the local boys has not been a resident of the town since September 1st, contrary to the rules and regulations of the league. Then again, it is claimed that the local team professionalized itself by playing an exhibition game against Tofield and the players of the Ryley and Viking teams shudder at the thought of appearing on the carpet before the A.A.A. A. No protest was made by either of these teams when Viking played against Tofield, but the excuse is considered a good one and is being taken advantage of. Perhaps this was a bait for Wainwright and the persuasion of Ryley players to the local team to continue their trip to Tofield might also have been a sugar coated plum.

Mr. S. E. James, one of the trustees of the Duplessis Cup, attended the meeting at Viking, and, in spite of the strong defence he offered, was unable to open the eyes of the blind. The manner in which the fiasco was engineered against Wainwright disgusted the secretary of the Viking club, Mr. McAtthey, and he resigned. Mr. McAtthey also resigned as secretary of the Major League and in Mr. McAtthey all followers of sport recognize a true sport. In addition to this apparently easy engineering feat, an attempt was made to freeze Wainwright out of the league before a local representative was notified and in fact a meeting was called and Wainwright expelled, but the deal was too raw and another meeting was called at which Mr. James was present.

The outcome is to be regretted, yet it brings out the managers of these teams in their true light. Sport is sport, but when a sport ceases to emulate the principals by which a sport is known among sports they cease to be objects of admiration. To say the least, the action of Viking and Ryley shows childishness in the extreme.

LICENSES ON HOTELS, THEATRES AND POOL ROOMS RAISED; BUILDING RE- STRICTIONS FOR BUSINESS BLOCKS

The first meeting of the town council in the new chamber was held last night and although two councillors were absent a considerable amount of important business was transacted. The most important matter dealt with was the amendments to certain existing by-laws and the recommendation to draft a new by-law governing the nature of buildings in the congested and business area of the town, at the same time providing for the construction of fire wells in each block.

Among the several communications read by Secretary Kenney was one from the curling club in reply to a letter from the council asking for the balance of the rent for the rink. The club informed the council in its letter that it was prepared to live up to its agreement when the council carried out its agreements. This matter was finally referred to the Property committee for investigation.

Manager Diefenbach, of the Wainwright Milling Co., was again on deck and asked for the $2100 due C. E. Bird on the flour mill agreement. Before Mr. Diefenbach could continue his remarks he was called on by Mayor Lally to reply as to whether or not he could not set apart at least a day a week for the purchase and gristing of poorer grades of wheat. Farmers who had poor grain could not dispose of it and he thought something should be done to help them out.

Mr. Diefenbach then proceeded to explain why this could not be done and that the mill could not grind poorer grades of flour. He also explained the reason for having raised the price of custom grinding from 17 cents per bushel to 25 cents saying that at the former price the work could not be made pay. Certain discussion took place and it was finally agreed to let the matter stand. The mill manager again asked about the $2100 and provision for a side track. Both matters were laid over for a future meeting.

Council Bowerman brought in the following recommendations, which were adopted. That pedlars be charged license fee of $15, instead of $10 as heretofore. That hotel license be increased from $50 to $100. That pool tables be charged at the rate of $20 for first table, $10 for second and $5 for all additional tables. He also recom-

HE, WHO PUTS HIS EGGS IN ONE BASKET, MAKES POOR SUCCESS

The one-crop farming never made farmers rich, and still it is the farmer that specializes who makes the biggest money. This seems like a paradoxical statement but it is easy to explain. The poor man that wants to get on his feet on the farm cannot afford to stake his all on one crop, to put his eggs in one basket. He should have his business so planned that he has something to market every day in the year, but as he grows in business, gets experience in operating his farm and gets stronger financially he can begin to specialize. He can then afford to give more of his time to the particular line that appeals to him. He can then begin to aim high; he has something in which to excel.

If a farmer takes up the breeding of hogs as his special line, he will show a much better judgement than the man whose mind runs to big wheat fields, gasoline engines and threshing machines, and who remembers his hogs when butchering time comes around and he wants something good to eat. The rest of the year he forgets. Similarly a man that loves horses gradually grows into the raising of the best horses and after a few years makes it the principal part of his business. Such a farmer is bound to make farming a big success. And while he is working into the specialty the balance of his farming will be better than that of the man that sticks to one crop. It brings about diversified farming and rotation of crops, or, in other words, true farming.

Home sites are $75, $100 $125 each and for a sound investment, there is no better in western Canada. Every city in western Canada became what it is today through being a divisional point and distributing centre. ### WAINWRIGHT has more possibilities than any other young city in western Canada. Wainwright is alive to her possibilities. There is no town in western Canada whose citizens are spending more money at home than Wainwright. They believe in her because they know and realize the wonderful future in store for their city. They put their earnings back into the town. Why not share with them? and in doing so prosper with Wainwright's prosperity.

SOUTH WAINWRIGHT

our property, is the only close-in property that you can buy at original prices. They realize that the big advance will hit our sub-division first. THEY KNOW

WHAT OUR COMPANY ARE DOING

On November the 26th, 1912, our Directors voted $30,000 to improve their property at Wainwright. 20 houses are to be built, streets graded and sidewalks laid. The park is to be improved and a 3 court tennis grounds installed for residents on this property. This is the reason why you should buy from a BIG COMPANY; A COMPANY of business men. Men whose obligations do not cease as soon as you sign a contract, but who spend their money improving your property. Don't you think you would like to be a client of a COMPANY of this standing?

Will you write or wire us to-day for a reservation and we will send full particulars. Then if the lots we have selected for you are not satisfactory, we will refund your deposit. DO IT NOW secured the disc in the married women's territory, and surprising the spectators by a spectacular rush, skated towards the other end of the rink. The crowd expected her to "get up speed," turn and rush towards the married ladies' nets. Instead, she skated on and slammed the rubber between her own nets, much to the disgust of her defenceless goal tender, Miss Bisson. But the married ladies were fair—they didn't count it.

On the forward line for the losers, Miss Sims, Miss Moffat and Miss Davis showed rare speed and aggressiveness. None of them, however, succeeded in scoring, this honorable task being left to Misses Winnie and Nellie Isted, who scored the three counters. Miss Winnie Isted played at cover point, Miss Godfrey defending the nets behind her at point. Miss Florence Bisson stood between the goal posts and had it not been for her clever footwork the score would have been much greater. No one will forget for sometime the surprised look on Miss Bisson's face when Nellie Isted slipped the puck past her into the nets.

Mrs. Pawling and Miss Belcher acted as goal judges, while "George" Harper held the cow bell and handed out the penalties. Mrs. Gerow was the only offender during the whole game and was given a two minute rest on the fence for skating too fast. Four ten minute halves were played.

SUB-DIVISION COMPANY WILL IMPROVE PROPERTY

Sixteen months ago, the property immediately south of the G. T. P. station was placed on the market in lots by the National Townsite & Colonization Co., of Winnipeg. This subdivision was styled South Wainwright and it immediately found ready sale, due no doubt to the fact that it is only a stone's throw from the station and business district of the town.

This property has remained in its raw state ever since, but now, the holding company having disposed of the entire part of the lots, have proved themselves to be different from the average sub-divisions promoters by inaugurating an extensive development program.

Plans have been completed to grade the crossings across the Grand Trunk main line, grade the streets, lay sidewalks and build twenty houses. Several of the houses, it is understood, have already been sold to prominent residents of the town, who realize the desirable location of the property for residential purposes.

Mr. Nichols, senior member of the firm of Nicolls & West, architects of the city of Winnipeg, was in town with Mr. McCormack, of the National Townsite & Colonization Co., on Monday, completing arrangements for this development and he states that South Wainwright, when developed, will be beyond a doubt the most picturesque part of the town of Wainwright. Drawing of the houses to be erected in this subdivision are in view at H. C. King's jewellery store, Second Avenue.

SHOULD TEST SEED GRAIN

In order to safeguard possible and too frequent mistakes of planting worthless seed, district farmers should bear in mind that they should have their seeds tested and when the proper time comes have the matter duly attended to.
